Product Description

Product Description:

The drop of these Adjustable Bars is 131.5mm, providing the rider with a more aerodynamic position and better control of the bike. The shape of these handlebars is ideal for those who prefer a more natural wrist angle, reducing the risk of injuries and allowing for a more comfortable ride.

The grip material of these Bike Handlebars is made of rubber, making it both durable and comfortable to hold. The 29mm size of these handlebars is perfect for those who prefer a thicker grip, providing a more secure grip on the handlebars, even in wet or slippery conditions.

These Cycling Handlebars are compatible with road bikes, making them the perfect addition to your bike if you want to improve your performance and comfort during your rides. Whether you're a professional cyclist or a recreational rider, these handlebars will certainly enhance your riding experience.

Overall, our Cycling Handlebars are an excellent investment for any bike enthusiast who desires a more comfortable and efficient ride. With their adjustable bar, ergonomic shape, and rubber grip material, these handlebars are sure to provide you with an exceptional biking experience that you won't find with any other handlebars on the market.
